

CRITICAL ACCESS HOSPITAL RECOGNITION: FY2014 INNOVATION IN COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Decatur County Memorial Hospital

Greensburg, Indiana

Decatur County Memorial Hospital \(DCMH\), located in Greensburg, Indiana, reaches out to its community in several ways. DCMH provides free influenza vaccines to the community at the Westport Health & Business Expo and free comprehensive blood screenings at the county health fair. With the help of small businesses, local organizations and active community members, the hospital and Decatur County come together to enhance the overall health of their small town.

Staff and executives at Decatur Memorial Hospital receive CAH Recognition Certificate from the Indiana Flex Program.

Positive Outcomes

- Administered over 4,000 free influenza vaccines in 2012
- Conducted over 250 free health education events
- Developed partnership to implement a new clinic named StayWELL to offer employees at both major school corporations in the county an easy choice in health care

Top Accomplishments

Linda Simmons, DCMH CEO and President, states:

"Engaging our patients, partners and community members is crucial to understanding the needs of our patients and ensuring the continued success of our hospital."
