

CRITICAL ACCESS HOSPITAL RECOGNITION: FY2013 INNOVATION IN COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Mason District Hospital

Havana, Illinois

Mason District Hospital \(MDH\), located in Havana, Illinois, provides integrative care that meets the specific needs of each patient through the Integrated Health Advocacy Program (IHAP). IHAP is a multiple chronic disease management program that supports and educates participants and provides whole person care to improve the health and quality of their lives, while decreasing health care costs and unnecessary health care utilization.

Harry Wolin, CEO, Mason District Hospital, receiving award from Pat Schou, Illinois Flex Program.

Positive Outcomes

- Recognized by the National Rural Health Association (NRHA) as a Top 20 Critical Access Hospital (CAH) in Patient Satisfaction
- Incorporated Six Sigma training into the quality program to improve efficiency, strengthen working relationships and improve patient care
- Implemented STEMI Alert and Prairie STAT Heart programs, with step-by-step guidelines for hospital to treat patients having a heart attack

Top Accomplishments

Harry Wolin, CEO for Mason District Hospital, believes in building strong, lasting partnerships with other organizations and leads the staff in developing relationships that will benefit the community. With appreciation of being recognized, he stated:

"We don't do everything in the medical world at this hospital, but what we do offer, we do better than most, especially in administering high quality contemporary medicine. Our patients' perception of care is of vital importance to us, and we hold everyone here accountable."